MARK
SCHEME

General Marking Instructions

Introduction

Mark schemes are published to assist teachers and students in their preparation for examinations. Through the mark schemes teachers and students will be able to see what examiners are looking for in response to questions and exactly where the marks have been awarded. The publishing of the mark schemes may help to show that examiners are not concerned about finding out what a student does not know but rather with rewarding students for what they do know.

The Purpose of Mark Schemes

Examination papers are set and revised by teams of examiners and revisers appointed by the Council. The teams of examiners and revisers include experienced teachers who are familiar with the level and standards expected of students in schools and colleges.

The job of the examiners is to set the questions and the mark schemes; and the job of the revisers is to review the questions and mark schemes commenting on a large range of issues about which they must be satisfied before the question papers and mark schemes are finalised.

The questions and the mark schemes are developed in association with each other so that the issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed right from the start. Mark schemes, therefore, are regarded as part of an integral process which begins with the setting of questions and ends with the marking of the examination.

The main purpose of the mark scheme is to provide a uniform basis for the marking process so that all the markers are following exactly the same instructions and making the same judgements in so far as this is possible. Before marking begins a standardising meeting is held where all the markers are briefed using the mark scheme and samples of the students' work in the form of scripts. Consideration is also given at this stage to any comments on the operational papers received from teachers and their organisations. During this meeting, and up to and including the end of the marking, there is provision for amendments to be made to the mark scheme. What is published represents this final form of the mark scheme.

It is important to recognise that in some cases there may well be other correct responses which are equally acceptable to those published: the mark scheme can only cover those responses which emerged in the examination. There may also be instances where certain judgements may have to be left to the experience of the examiner, for example, where there is no absolute correct response – all teachers will be familiar with making such judgements.

Ropa usada ya está de moda

Comprar ropa usada en el Camden Market londinense ha sido uno de los pasatiempos favoritos de muchos turistas españoles desde los años ochenta. Sin embargo, hacerlo en España era visto como un signo de pobreza.

Esta percepción ha ido (a) cambiando recientemente por causa de la crisis y de una (b) creciente concienciación de los ciudadanos que cada vez más compran ropa de segunda (c) mano como opción de consumo más responsable.

La ropa reciclada empieza a convertirse en una alternativa más de consumo hoy en día sin (d) ningún estigma y en un exitoso negocio para algunos emprendedores. La situación económica ha hecho que personas de toda condición social (e) recurran a tiendas como Percentil.com para proveerse de ropa a precios sumamente bajos.

Cuando Daniel Bezares fue padre de dos gemelas se dio cuenta de que la ropa de bebé era excesivamente cara para el poco tiempo que se iba a usar y acabó (f) montando la empresa Percentil de compra y venta de ropa de bebé usada. Ahora vende 1.500 prendas cada día, aplicando un 85% de descuento de su precio original. Bromea diciendo que se ha convertido en un Mark Zuckerberg a la (g) española gracias a la crisis.

Cada prenda tiene impacto ambiental y social que afecta (h) nuestro planeta. Cada ciudadano consume unos 9 kilos de ropa al año, lo que genera 376.000 toneladas de restos textiles en España. Reciclar 100 toneladas de ropa supone (i) ahorrar el dinero que gastan en energía al año ochenta familias.

Por eso, cada persona debería (j) aportar su granito de arena al cuidado del medio ambiente y estrenar ropa usada.

4 Translation into Target Language

Notes to examiners

1. This mark scheme should be read in conjunction with the Instructions to Assistant Examiners, in particular the references to annotation of candidates' work.
2. To facilitate marking, the text can be divided into six sections. Mark off these sections within the script before starting to mark. The total number of marks available for the question [20] has been tripled to a working total of [60]. The translation should be assessed by applying the description of performance grid, set out on the page following the translation, in each of the six sections. Examiners are asked to place each section in a band and award a mark. To facilitate totalling, that mark should be recorded as a sub-total in the right-hand margin, level with the section slash. Insert the total at the end of the translation. Divide by three to give a mark out of twenty; the final mark should be transferred, ringed, to the top right-hand corner of the candidate's script. $\frac{1}{3}$ should be rounded down and $\frac{2}{3}$ should be rounded up.
3. Ticks over relevant section(s) must indicate positive marks to be awarded. Errors should be underlined, infelicities indicated by a wavy line. Ticks should indicate where marks are being awarded. If alternatives are offered, only the first should be credited.
4. Credit should be given for other valid responses not set out in "Suggested Translation".
5. Repeated or consequential errors should be ringed.
